Earth Changes. Pole Shift. Our Real History.
The Cosmic Alarm Clock is Ringing!

The earth is due for another pole shift in the immediate future. Possibly/probably late 2026, or early 2027!

“Without vision, the people perish”. This sad fact becomes more apparent by the day.
“Who controls the past controls the future. Who controls the present controls the past.” -”1984” G. Orwell.

May the vision which follows inspire, and more importantly may it deeply, profoundly assist with the much needed awakening to our true history, to our celestial heritage and majesty, and help bring the hideous rule of Satan’s Chosen to its inevitable conclusion!

Ben Davidson has generated an enthusiastic audience by presenting his understanding of how dramatic planetary changes may occur in the near future on his Youtube channel Suspicious Observers in presentations such as Ben Davidson | The Poles Are Moving Faster Than Ever – YouTube . Ben bases both historic and the imminent pole change upon the earth's reduced magnetic polarity and simultaneously, upon critical activity in the sun of our solar system. Ben, however, is thus far unwilling to take into account what I find to be the key factor soon to trigger this planetary pole reversal...the 3,612 year cyclical return of Hercolubus/Niburu/Planet X. I have written to Davidson and his assistant to consider this, but they reject this vital understanding as naive idiocy.

Hopi Prophecy substantiates my understanding as this article reveals. THE STORY OF THE BLUE KACHINA & THE RED KACHINA | Jack Allis

Additionally, in this interview from 1999, the famed Chilean astronomer/visionary Carlos Ferrada speaks of the imminent cyclical 3,612 year return of Hercolubus/Niburu/Planet X. Science Genius Carlos Munoz Ferrada rare interview about Planet X Nibiru – YouTube. He is saddened because mankind is not ready for these coming events. In the interview he also refers to the sinking of Atlantis. (more about this follows)

Edgar (last name unknown), who curated the now defunct site Nibiru Update.com , wrote "the early date for the Exodus (Moses and the Israelites), 1586 BC, is supported by the record of the Hyksos kings." -The Dating of Exodus | Nibiru Update 2023. Adding 1586 BC to our current year 2026 AD totals 3612 years, meaning we can expect Hercolubus in 2026. THIS YEAR!!! In other writing Edgar more specifically predicted this comet/planetary "trigger" to be pulled between December 2026 and April, 2027. Is this record and thereby Edgar's predicted time frame accurate? We will soon find out!

I initially learned of this coming event over 50 years ago from my primary mentor/visionary Lloyd Meeker/Uranda who spoke of the biblically recorded parting of the waters of the Red Sea which allowed Moses and the Israelites to escape Egypt and the Pharaoh's rapidly advancing army, now 3,612 years ago, the dramatic event having been caused by the interaction of this rogue planet with the earth.

Medieval depiction of Moses parting the Red Sea.

These coming events, as I see it, represent Life Itself, Our Creator if you will, stepping in to help bring balance once again, to erase the insanity CAUSED by the juvenile adherents of Satan and their myriad self-serving, self-preoccupied sycophants and the somnolent masses who live in blind, unconscious fear and blow with the wind. It is time to return to serving Spirit, or be removed from interfering with the Divine purpose of Life on this Sacred Planet.

This dramatic Library of Congress footage was taken in the aftermath of the 1906 San Francisco earthquake. See the catastrophic aftermath of the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 | Britannica

The image following was posted in early February 2026.

Creation Rebels against Its Creator. 26,000 years of Man Made Hell. A Brief Overview.

It is clear we are in The End Times. Humanity is snared in a satanically spun web from which there appears to be no escape. How did we get here? Why did this happen? What can be done about it? We must first waken to the reality of our circumstance here and now. It is vital to first recognize, then emerge from the collective trances afflicting humanity, a phenomenon true for both the sheep and the self-proclaimed shepherds, and thereby become TRULY PRESENT.

“Unless we are willing to waken to our past, we are doomed to repeat it.” This is true for each individual, just as it is for humanity collectively. What events have occurred in our past to which we remain asleep, of which we are unaware, which now lead us to doom? Mark Twain wisely observed, “What gets us into trouble is not what we don’t know, it’s what we know for sure that just ain’t so!”

Sadly, most of humanity does not think for itself, rather it regurgitates what it has been told, claiming such thought as its own. This habitual function (in reality dysfunction) is fundamental to the dilemma we face because we have deliberately been fed lies designed to confuse and emasculate us, to dumb us down and make us easily manipulated and controlled. Again, this is true for both sheep and shepherd!

Essentially everything we have been taught is a lie. Education dumbs us down. Medicine makes us ill and has been designed to ultimately kill us. Our food is frequently poison. The history we are taught is primarily fiction, deliberately constructed to brainwash the masses...be they sheep, or “The Chosen”, by nefarious “masters”.

Religion brainwashes us to claim superiority while everybody else is heathen at best, animals to be slaughtered at worst. Our “news”, which supposedly reports current events, serves too as deviously contrived mind control. The same holds true for what we’ve been programmed to understand as our recent history, and older “recorded” history, plus ancient as well as prehistoric history. In this brief paper I ask you to relax your grip on “what you know for sure” as Mark Twain suggests, and permit hidden elements to enter consideration. Intensifying current events, local and global, help this shift seem not only reasonable, but necessary. Werner Erhard explained, “If we don’t wake up to where we’re going, we’ll end up where we’re headed!”

Unprecedented disaster lies dead ahead, precisely as planned! From Vaxxed genocide, to the brazen genocide in Gaza, to the carefully orchestrated mass invasion of Western Nations by military age Third World illegal aliens who can legally buy and carry firearms with money provided by the government without official paperwork required, to the poisoning of our air, water, food, to destruction of hundreds of food processing plants, to banning farming, to banning free speech, to electromagnetic attack and surveillance, to governments at every level absolutely refusing to serve their communities, their citizens, to a self-proclaimed psychopathic elite who claim it is their right to own and control everything. Clearly unbridled insanity runs amok everywhere and refuses reason, logic, order. How can this be addressed?

We have been here before! It has been said, “There is nothing new under the sun since the Fathers fell asleep!” This well worn maxim deceptively presents further disinformation. It is a lie! The Fathers, our Source in Spirit, have never “fallen asleep”. Rather the human vehicle of incarnation for Spirit, for Our Creator, for Our Father, has fallen asleep, and remains in catatonic denial of this fact. The 25,920 year Platonic Year in which this catastrophic denial has occurred is now ending. The Cosmic Alarm Clock is ringing.

We are in Truth Spirit incarnate and when consciously aligned with this reality we are the parents, the divinely sourced fathers and mothers, the authors responsible for this planetary creation. It is time to WAKEN from millennia long catatonic slumber and denial to again take care of our creation. I’ll explain more about this as we continue.

Immanuel Velikovsky offers an excellent introduction to our long, forgotten, real history in this quotation from “Mankind in Amnesia”.

“The global catastrophes of ancient times...had devastating effects on the human psyche. Collectively, mankind acts like an amnesia victim seeking to relive a traumatic experience. Though surrounded by literary, geological, and astronomical evidence of our violent heritage, we try to avoid the realization that earth-wrenching cataclysms have occurred ─ as recently as a hundred generations ago. Yet only by understanding our past can we overcome the urge to re-enact the scene of planetary devastation. The horrifying truth, so long as it remains unrecognized, is a powerful force urging us towards doom.”

Carl Jung commented about the current transit into the Age of Aquarius: “As we know from ancient Egyptian history, there are symptoms of psychic changes that always appear at the end of one Platonic month and at the beginning of another. They are, it seems, changes in the constellation of psychic dominants, of the archetypes or ‘Gods’ as they used to be called, which bring about, or accompany, long lasting transformations of the collective psyche. This transformation [is apparent] within the historical tradition and left traces behind within it...in the transition of the Age of Taurus to that of Aries, and then from Aries to Pisces, whose beginning coincides with the rise of Christianity. We are now nearing that great change which may be expected when the spring-point enters Aquarius. I am, to be quite frank, concerned for all those that are unprepared by the events in question and disconcerted by their incomprehensible nature. Since, as far as I know, no one else has yet felt moved to examine and set forth the possible psychic consequences of this foreseeable change, I deem it my duty to do what I can in this respect. I undertake this thankless task in the expectation that my chisel will make no impression on the hard stone it meets.”

We are due to remember. Carl Jung’s chisel must immediately make profound impressions on our collective stony heart and ossified mind, for we immediately face vastly more pain and suffering.

Planet earth, as part of our solar system, as part of the Milky Way Galaxy, as all this spirals forward through universal space, we are departing the celestial dominance of Pisces, as Jung pointed out, and are entering the vibrationally founded, psychic dominants of The Age of Aquarius, the Age of Brotherly Love! Of greater significance, the earth is entering not just the dominance of a new 2,160 year long Platonic Month. Aquarius is also the first House leading a new 25,920 year long Platonic Year. We are leaving a “26,000” year long Platonic Year which vibrationally allowed for the Hell which has been experienced for so long on earth.

In “Worlds in Collision” Velikovsky adds: “In the manuscripts of Avila and Molina, who collected the traditions of the Indians of the New World, it is related that the sun did not appear for five days, a cosmic collision of stars preceded the cataclysm; people and animals tried to escape to mountain caves. Scarcely had they reached there, when the sea, breaking out of bounds following a terrifying shock, began the rise [sic] of the Pacific coast. But as the sea rose, filling the valleys and the plains around, the mountain of Ancasmarca rose too, like a ship on the waves. During the five days that this cataclysm lasted, the sun did not show its face, and the earth remained in darkness.”

Avila and Molina were referring to the 180 degree planetary pole reversal which occurred a little more than 18,000 years ago, which initiated the sinking of the continent of Lemuria. As is true of an electric motor when its polarity is reversed, so it is true of our planet. It will slow down, stop, then begin spinning in reverse. You may declare this to be impossible, absolute insanity, but it is true. The earth is an electromagnetically charged globe (no it is not flat. Do not even begin to comment to me about this idiocy) spinning in an electromagnetically charged solar system spiraling forward in a harmoniously charged universe. Even as a child I found it peculiar that the earth orbits the sun in a dissonant, non harmonic cycle of 365 1/4 days, rather than in a more mathematically congruent 360 days.

From my research and the work of Velikovsky:
“The ancient Maya, indigenous peoples world-wide, even the populations of ancient Egypt, Greece and Rome, were aware of the original 360-day cycle during which the earth orbited the sun. During their lifetimes this cycle changed to the 365¼ days it now takes to complete this planetary orbit. Biblical patriarch Abraham prophesied using a 360 day year. Velikovsky reveals through extensive research and corroborating documentation that this dramatic shift occurred during the most recent cataclysm preceding our current time, specifically on March 23, -687 BC. Not only has the earth reversed polarity, stopped spinning, collapsed and begun spinning in reverse to what it had previously, its orbit also became eccentric within recorded history, less than 3,000 years ago, and now takes 5¼ days longer to circle the sun!"

To present a more "western" record of past earth catastrophe, the following is excerpted from my "The Real History of the Earth. Why in Hell All This is Happening Again" Cosmic Fellow – Shadowbanned Library

"Many have heard of Atlantis. Humankind lived in Lemuria, also known as The Motherland or Mu, prior to its submersion. Those who survived continued in Atlantis. James Churchward's books regarding these ancient legendary continents, though scoffed at by Jewish controlled mainstream academia, show clearly their relatively recent existence. Churchward's research of the ancient Kara Maya languages reveal the Greek alphabet to be, in essence, a recounting of the sinking of the Lemurian continent. What follows is a brief summary of the Greek alphabet and its translation by James Churchward, from The Lost Continent of Mu, pages 88, 89.

"Alpha --Heavily break the waters
Beta -----extending over the plains
Gamma -they cover the lands
Delta ----in low places, where
Epsilon -there are obstructions, shores form and whirlpools
Zeta -----strike the earth
Eta ------with water.
Theta ---The waters spread
Iota -----on all that lives and moves
Kappa --obstructions give way and Lamda -submerged is the land of Mu.
Nu -----Peaks only
Xi -----appear above the waters
Omikron -whirlwinds blow around

Pi ------and little by little Rho ----until there comes
Sigma -cold air. Before
Tau ----where valleys existed, are
Upsilon -now abysses, cold depths. In circular places
Phi -----mud formed.
Chi ---A mouth
Psi ----opens, vapours
Omega -come forth and volcanic sediments.”

Additionally, the renowned National Museum of Anthropology in Mexico City reveals an awareness fundamental to the indigenous peoples of the once much larger Mexico in text describing one particular diorama. I quote, “... gods emerged from the ocean. For the Nayar the origin of all living creation is under the west.” This is to say, under the Pacific Ocean, the sunken Motherland, the continent of Lemuria, MU.- Display # 227, The Gran Nayar.

From “The Children of Mu” by James Churchward:
“The Land of Mu was a large continent situated in the Pacific Ocean between America and Asia, its center lying somewhat south of the equator. Basing its area on the remains which are still above water, it would have been about six thousand miles from east to west, and about three thousand from north to south. All the rocky islands, individually and in groups, scattered over the Pacific Ocean were once part of the continent of Mu. Beginning approximately 18,000 years ago and continuing until about 12,000 years ago, cataclysmic earthquakes rent Mu asunder. She became a fiery vortex, and the waters of the Pacific rushed in, making a watery grave for a vast civilization and sixty million people. Easter Island, Tahiti, Samoas, Cook, Tongas, Marshall, Gilbert, Caroline, Marianas, Hawaii and Marquesas are the pathetic fingers of that great land, standing today as sentinels to a silent grave.”

“The existence of this great continent is confirmed in extensive, detailed and widespread sources: Naacal tablets, books, writings, inscriptions and legends found in India, China, Burma, Tibet and Cambodia. Ancient Maya books, inscriptions, symbols and legends found in Yucatan and Central America. Remains, inscriptions, symbols and legends found among the Pacific Islands. Stone tablets found in Mexico near Mexico City. Cliff dweller's writings and inscriptions found in Western North America. Books of old Greek philosophers. Books and writings of the ancient Egyptians. Legends throughout the world.”

“The Land of Mu and the Biblical Garden of Eden were one and the same. At the time of Mu's destruction her people were in an exceedingly high state of civilization; as regards science she was far ahead of the present time. The great civilization of the old Oriental empires - India, Egypt, Babylonia etc. were only the dying embers of Mu's great civilization."

The real history of the earth has been locked behind a wall of mass trauma in the collective unconscious of humanity and ceaselessly, ruthlessly kept there specifically during the past 3,600 years by satanists who now speak of themselves as Jews but are not. Below are current photos of excavations underway of the massive sculpted standing stones on Easter Island. In 2024 massive wildfires are apparently raging on Easter Island, causing extensive cracking and damage to these ancient sentinels from Lemuria. Wildfires on a remote grassy island!? It's almost like (((someone))) is doing their best to further erase more confirmation of the planet's real history.

Below are photos of excavations underway in 2024 of the legendary giant statues on Easter Island.

Because we have fallen asleep to who we Really are...Spirit Incarnate...and allowed Satanists, multi-generational psychopaths who absolutely REFUSE to serve and obey Spirit, our Creator, God...call this what you will...to rule over us, we now face the horror so evident all around us! Why did Lemuria sink? Why did the earth reverse polarity 18,000 years ago, shrink in diameter by 17 miles, experience violent volcanic eruptions and cataclysmic flooding, turn upside down and begin spinning in reverse following 5 days of darkness on one side, and 5 days of light on the other? You may think what I present based on my lifetime of research, which includes the work of Meeker, Exeter, Churchward, Velikovsky and countless others is nonsense. As mentioned previously, “Unless we are able to remember our past, we are doomed to repeat it!” It is now repeating. Please pay attention!

Ancient Hopi prophecy in The Blue Star Kachina states, referring to our current time: “In the final days, the Blue Star Kachina will come to be with his nephews, and they will return the Earth to its natural rotation, which is counter-clockwise. (Earth currently spins clockwise!) This fact is evidenced in many petroglyphs that speak of the Zodiac, and within the Mayan and Egyptian pyramids. The rotation of the Earth has been manipulated by not so benevolent beings.”

We have thus far proven ourselves incapable of waking from mass unconscious trance, to address the Satanic Plague, thus I anticipate Life Itself will soon intervene to decisively terminate further Satanic destruction and return earth and all life aboard once again to Divine function. We have forgotten that we are Spiritual Beings incarnate with human vehicles to serve Our Father, Our Creator, our very Source. We are not here to worship what we think is the ever so clever mind of our incarnational vehicle, the human animal.

Satan and his rebellious, psychopathic team ARE NOT ALIENS. They are no more alien that you and I are! They are part of the One I Am, part of the one body of humankind. They have however, disastrously, multi-generationally, resolutely chosen to deny their very source, Spirit, and instead self-righteously worship the mind of the human being, the human “animal”. As is undeniably apparent, “The mind is a good servant, but a terrible master!”

I wish to present an extensive quotation from my primary mentor, an astounding visionary who was, sadly, killed in a small plane “accident” some years ago. His terminology may seem archaic or difficult to understand. To perhaps more easily comprehend what is expressed, more of his presentation can be found my book available at ShadowbannedLibrary.com – Shadowbanned Library beginning on page 83:
“The serpent, the devil, Lucifer and Satan all symbolize the same thing, namely the outer mind of the outer body of man. Lucifer was the morning star. Morning symbolizes the beginning of a new day or cycle of creation. The outer mind of divine man was to be the guiding star which should direct the transformation of physical substance according to the law of eternal progress. 'How thou art fallen, O son of the morning!'

“The son is brought forth in the new cycle of creative activity. That son, the morning star, was and is the outer mind of man. As long as the outer mind of man remained as an open channel for the Christ expression of positive God Being, it was, and is, assured of immortal life. So long as man depended upon the tree of life, even the Lord God within himself, and ate only of the fruit of that tree, which is to say absorbed from and responded to God Being only, he was assured of immortality. But there was another tree in the garden, ie., in the body of divine man. That second tree was and is the tree of the serpent, the outer mind of man.

“Divine man was warned that if he should become self-active without the Christ impulse, that is, if he should respond to the things of material creation, which was of a lower vibration than himself, then he would, by such positive action toward his source of life and such negative reaction toward that in which life was as yet a gift, not an inherent quality, separate himself from his source of life, and in so doing would suffer death. Everywhere is proven the Law; two things that are positive toward each other repel each other. Here is the secret of death. At the time of the fall of man the body of divine man, pictured as Eve, was tempted by the mind of divine man, the serpent, to eat, or absorb and be responsive to, the fruit of its own acts. In other words it is clearly seen that divine man allowed himself to become negative and responsive to that over which he had control, and thereby he became subject to that over which he was the rightful master. In so doing he lowered himself from his divine estate to the state of being subject to physical creation, and thereby repelled himself from the Lord God and attracted himself into subjection to physical substance.

“When he was thus separating himself from the Lord, his source of life, the Lord called unto him, as soon as he would listen, and gave him an opportunity to repent and return. But man became more rebellious still against the source of his life and refused to recognize his guilt. In so doing he pushed himself clear out of the garden of Eden, ie., out of the oneness with the radiant light body of the Lord, and thereby he denied himself the privilege of eating of the tree of life. This is to say, in his positive action toward the Lord he separated himself from the Lord and prevented himself from eating, absorbing and responding to the fruit, the expression, of the Lord.

“As man continued, in his fallen state, to be positive toward the Lord, he finally brought about a complete separation from the Lord, and then did man die. After man began to follow the dictates and ideas of his own outer mind he brought about a further fall by blending himself with a species of animal which had been created in the form much like man today. These animals did not have an individualized Divine Being within them and they were controlled by the external, just as all other animals are controlled. These animals had been created as servants of divine man, to do whatever physical work might be required in the earth. The fallen being that had been divine man saw these animals, that 'they were fair; and they took them wives of all which they chose.' Genesis 6:1,2 As the habit of recording, in the days in which the Bible was written, was to describe the acts of the male only, or of the female only insofar as they related definitely to the male, only half of the picture is given. Of divine man, both male and female, the complete record is, and both male and female had a part in the first step of the fall, when they were driven out of the garden by their own acts. Thus it is that the females of the fallen beings had a part also in blending with these animals, for they took them husbands of all which they chose.

“The second step of the fall was that which brought man down into the fleshly, animal body which he is today. When fallen man thus violated the Law of creation by blending with that which was below himself in vibration, control over that Law was denied him, so that from that time on he could not cross with other animals and bring forth anything. If the use of this Law had not been denied to fallen man after his first violation of it he would have filled the earth with terrible monstrosities. Through the wisdom of the Lord he was prevented from doing this, except as he has done it within the realm of his own kind.

“Since the Lord, the Master-Self, was the creator of divine man, the Lord was and is responsible for His creation as long as it exists. When man fell and blended with animals, the Lord, or Divine Soul, went into those bodies as the Savior of them. The perfect Divine Beings — known individually as the Lord, the Inner Soul, the Master-Self, and by many other names — have incarnated into fleshly man for the sole purpose of saving man from destruction, and Divine Souls will continue to incarnate in the fleshly bodies of man until such time as those body temples learn to respond, that they may be adopted into the Father, or Lord, through the Christ radiance, so that man may thereby unite in oneness with the Lord, or until such time as those bodies which refuse to respond shall by their own acts destroy themselves, so that they shall be no more.”

Humankind, after “The Fall”, felt naked and ashamed, no longer clothed in the radiance and wisdom of Spirit. Direct, personal experience of union with Spirit, in flow with life, was gone. All this sounds remarkably close to the story of Adam and Eve, expelled from the Garden of Eden. But, by this accounting, the residents of earth were not expelled from Heaven, unfortunate victims tossed out of The Kingdom. Rather, they chose this circumstance by eating “of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil”, Genesis 2: 17, by choosing to deny spirit, enter into polarity and judgment, and to view the material world as something to be manipulated. Indeed,“The mind is a good servant, but a terrible master”.

The following is founded upon an extensive body of suppressed knowledge and understanding, centrally the works of Lloyd Meeker and Martin Exeter, augmented by the research and writings of Immanuel Velikovsky and James Churchward.

Twenty-six thousand years ago the earth, as part of our solar system within the Milky Way Galaxy, as all this spiraled forward through universal space, we entered a sector of the universe dominated by a different frequency. This experience was akin to moving from a white to a black note on a piano keyboard. There are 88 constellations known to mankind, and 88 keys on a piano keyboard, a remarkable fractal co-relation. As above, so below. (Or so it is intended) A note in this metaphor represents a 26,000 (more precisely 25,920) year cycle of creation, itself again divided into the 12 Houses or constellations of dominance as in an octave, with its seven whole notes and five black sharps and flats, each house being of dominant celestial influence over the earth for 2,160 years.

The key in which the earth was bathed, 25,934 years ago, cf. 2026 AD, transposed down into a different, dissonant frequency which allowed for the birth of a rebellion in the consciousness of many inhabitants of The Motherland, in, as it is spoken of in the Bible, the Garden of Eden. They began wanting different results in the outer, material world. Until the rebellion away from Spirit emerged, it had been normal to pay homage to Spirit as unquestioned Source, and to express life's loving current of blessing into the earth. We tended our Garden Planet, assisting everything to rise to its next highest level of vibration. All had moved well this way for more than a hundred thousand years — not the millions or billions of years satanic obfuscation would have us baffled and believing. Yet in this new vibration or key, thought began to emerge in some that things could be "better". in the material world than Spirit was presenting. "Improvements" could be made, indeed had to be made, simply because they appeared in consciousness and apparently could be made.

The rebellion grew from initiation nearly 26,000 years ago within the new "dissonant" frequency, to fever pitch just over 18,000 years ago. Our body of governing "frequency holders" saw that such "judging of good and evil," making choices based dominantly upon physical form, rather than on Spirit, was folly, and would lead to even greater folly. But try as we might to show the wisdom of serving Spirit first, those who rebelled wanted to pursue their "improved" choices, and manipulate the material world. Those who held the spiritual frequency left the 3rd dimension. There was a mass ascension, a collective withdrawal from this three dimensional world to other dimensions/frequencies where we have long simultaneously resided.

The result to both the planet and the human psyche remains profoundly apparent to this day. The conscious orientation which remained on earth represented a 180 degree shift, from inner to outer, from Spirit to form. With the spiritual vibration, response to Spirit, no longer dominant, the earth dutifully reversed polarity, north to south, reflecting the reversed polarity of those who remained on the planet. As within, so without; from worship of Spirit within, to worship of form, the material, external world. And the earth stopped spinning, just as an electric motor, when its polarity is reversed, slows, stops, then spins in reverse direction reflecting the new polarity. Because the uplifting, ascending substance of Spirit was gone, the earth shrank. Many mountain ranges arose including the Pacific ranges running the length of the Americas, the Rockies and the Andes. The earth then resembled a shriveled pea.

Velikovsky's and Churchward's books overflow with written, archaeological and geological evidence of these events and much more. Our individual and thus collective dissociative response to trauma has produced mass denial, which comes to specific focus in the intractable denial of those who claim to be “in charge”. The ongoing inability or unwillingness to acknowledge and release from this unconscious reactive patterning is precisely why we are now driven to re-create Armageddon and proceed into the satanically crafted New World Order. We will now awaken to our spiritual responsibility or be removed by satanic genocide or by Life itself.

International Jewry, Masons, Jesuits, myriad secret societies, corporations, NGOs, elected officials, bureaucrats etc ad nauseam, all working in concert are creating a never ending array of meticulously planned diabolical destruction prepared to destroy the world we know.

Karl Marx, in the following excerpts from his poetry helps the Satanic Jewish racial mentality be better understood. From Invocation of One in Despair, - Karl Marx, Collected Works, Vol. 1, New York, 1974.

“So a god has snatched from me my all ,
In the curse and rack of destiny.
All his worlds are gone beyond recall,
Nothing but revenge is left to me.”

In his poem “The Pale Maiden”, Marx writes:
“Thus heaven I've forfeited,
I know it full well.
My soul, once true to God,
Is chosen for hell.”

And in “Human Pride”, published in “World Revolution” by Nesta Webster, p. 167, he writes:
“With disdain I will throw my gauntlet
Full in the face of the world.
And see the collapse of this pygmy giant
Whose fall will not stifle my ardour.

Then I will be able to walk triumphantly
Like a god, through the ruins of their kingdom.
Every word of mine is fire and action.
My breast is equal to that of the Creator.”

Sorry Satan. Your cleverly devised and orchestrated deceptive destruction in no way even comes close to divinely sourced, celestially orchestrated Creation!

As I asked at the beginning of this article, how is this pervasive , meticulously orchestrated, diabolical plot to be escaped? Certainly this will not be achieved from merely the level of the human being. We are in an epic, final Spiritual Battle. I offer another quote from Uranda/Lloyd Meeker:

“Only that which is eternal can be immortal. That which has a beginning must also have an ending. If the Inner Soul of the human being had a beginning, or was born at any time, then that Inner Soul cannot be immortal. No one can gainsay this truth. It was man, the outer self, which began and which must have an end. The end to which man is to come is dependent upon the choice of each individual."

In this new Platonic Month in the unfolding New Platonic Year, the dissonant vibration of the past 26,000 years is rapidly fading. Soon it will no longer be possible for anyone/anything not functioning in heartfelt harmony with the intelligence of Universal Creation to exist on this sacred planet. This is well explained in The Story of the Blue and Red Kachina, link provided earlier.

"In the final days, the Blue Star Kachina will come to be with his nephews, and they will return the Earth to its natural rotation, which is clockwise...The Blue Star Kachina...will start as fires that burn within us, and we will burn up with desires and conflict if we do not remember the original teachings, and return to the peaceful way of life"...Then comes the Red Kachina, "From the Purifier will issue forth a great Red Light. Every living thing will be offered the opportunity to change...Many will appear to have lost their souls in these final days. So intense will the nature of the changes be that those who are weak in spiritual awareness will go insane...They will disappear, for they are just hollow vessels for anything to use..."

Additionally, also mentioned earlier, famed astronomer Carlos Ferrada spoke of the imminent coming of the rogue planet/comet Hercolubus/Niburu/Planet X, which may well be the Blue Kachina. His 1999 interview is here: Science Genius Carlos Munoz Ferrada rare interview about Planet X Nibiru . Hercolubus was thrown from its orbit as a planet in our solar system because of the rebellion on earth and has orbited earth on a 3,612 year elliptical route since Lemuria began to submerge and the 180 degree pole shift occurred 18,060 years ago, cf. 2026. My understanding is that this will be the 5th close interaction with Hercolubus, (3612 x 5) in 18,060 years.

As the earth and its inhabitants return to proper polarity, it is probable Hercolubus/Niburu/Planet X will return to its original harmonious position in our solar system, and no longer wreak havoc with the earth. This detail is so important I choose to repeat: Edgar, who curated this site, wrote "the early date for the Exodus (Moses and the Israelites), 1586 BC, is supported by the record of the Hyksos kings." -The Dating of Exodus | Nibiru Update 2023 .

Adding 1586 to our current year 2026 totals 3612 years, meaning we may expect Hercolubus in 2026, THIS YEAR! In other writing Edgar more specifically predicted this comet/planetary "trigger" to be squeezed between December 2026 and April, 2027.

Hopi prophecy speaks of the earth returning to its proper counter-clockwise rotation. This to my understanding means the earth will soon reverse polarity physically, north to south, wreaking remarkable havoc, but this change is central to reversing and cleansing the earth of the distortion imposed upon it by rebellious mankind, established and continuously imposed upon this earth now for , as I understand, 18,060 years. Life Itself, Intelligent Design, Spirit, God, call it what you will, via these heavenly bodies and the radiant, harmonious energies of this new Platonic Year is preparing to bring the earth back into proper rotation, as part of a much larger process of cleansing the planet of Satanic influence. Simultaneously Satan's Psycho-pathetic Team scurries to claim this sacred planet as their very own New World Order. This is my best understanding in answer to my initial questions, "How did we get here?" "Why did this happen?" And "What can be done about it?" I too know that to which I pay my primary allegiance.

Regarding the Platonic Month and Platonic Year:
"When I was a child, I asked my grandfather, who was beginning to teach me to play the piano, why there were 88 keys on the piano. He didn't know, nor did I find any clues until last winter, on a beach in Mexico, while stargazing. I was beginning to study astronomy and astrology and noted there are 88 constellations known to mankind, and which influence our lives here on earth. Microcosm and macrocosm are intimately intertwined. Of course! The vibrational progression on a piano keyboard and the musical progression throughout the celestial spheres, are based upon the same principles. Using the piano keyboard as metaphor, our earth, as part of our solar system, as part of the Milky Way Galaxy, as all this spirals forward through universal space, we gradually ascend through, and are bathed in, an ascending scale of frequencies. As we move along this celestial keyboard, this living matrix profoundly affects our lives here on earth. Just as astrology gives some indication of how various planets, stars and constellations impact our individual lives, so this more expansive movement through universal space affects our collective consciousness and experience here on earth. A note on this celestial keyboard represents a 25,920 year cycle of precession, a platonic year, during which we are bathed in the living matrix of a specific note, frequency, or vibrational signature. Within this “26,000” year cycle we also progress through the 12 sub-dominant governing frequencies of 2,160 years duration each, the time the earth is embraced by the different energies of each House in the Zodiak. “ - The Cosmic Alarm Clock, Chapter 9.

As briefly expressed in my biography, “I was born into a multi-generational Masonic family. Satanic sexual ritual abuse and programming of my little human capacities began at age of 30 days, and I was trafficked until age of nine to the power elite in the eastern Canadian WASP/Jewish establishment. I left my carefully prepared “yellow brick road” of mega wealth and opportunity at age 22 to pursue spiritual interests and immersed my life in the vision and legacy of Uranda and Lord Martin Exeter. In the 1990’s I was invited to join the faculty of the Monroe Institute because of my high calibre paranormal abilities, remote viewing, astral travel, past life memory etc. These extraordinary abilities have allowed me to verify to my complete satisfaction the visions, insight and understanding expressed by Lloyd Meeker, known as Uranda. This remarkable man died in “plane crash” in 1954. Subsequently the organisation he carefully had created to “carry forward the work of the spiritual regeneration of mankind” has been subverted and destroyed and I find today it remains as a mere cardboard cutout of what it was, excoriated of true spiritual vision and substance. This travesty has been and continues to be orchestrated by those I expose in ShadowbannedLibrary.com – Shadowbanned Library .

I offer the following excerpt from my book, “The Cosmic Alarm Clock” as inspiration in this disturbing time of existential turmoil.

“He [Uranda] spoke of a time when humankind had lived in harmony with all life, not only here on earth, but throughout the universe. We, Spirit incarnate on earth, had not originated here, but had come from a few celestial sources. We had created the earth by focusing our loving, unified, conscious intent on this location in our solar system. This unified, conscious intent was maintained for six “days,” as spoken of biblically, but these were “Days of Creation”, cycles of approximately 26,000 years, a period of time spoken of as a Platonic Year, or a full round of the Zodiak.

“Understood this way, the creation of the earth in “six days” computes to approximately 156,000 “earth years”, not the “one day short of a week” belief fancifully interpreted and embraced by some. It was our privilege and responsibility to tend and husband this garden planet, then spoken of as “Poisenra” (pronounced poe..ee..sen..raw). Our task was to assist everything to rise to its next highest level of vibration. We understood that in an even larger context, our increasingly radiant planet would eventually cross a vibrational threshold, and become a Sun itself. Not the ball of gas scientists declare our Sun to be, but rather, a civilisation so radiant in our love, that to the distant observer it would appear to be a Sun able to constellate other planets around it.

“My dear friend Janice Hawes, in her mid-eighties when I knew her in the mid-1970s, lived at an Emissary sister community, Riverbend Orchard, near Kamloops, B.C. Janice told me of a few experiences her close friend and roommate Jesse Stuckey had had with Uranda, on Sunrise Ranch, in the late 1940s. Jesse had travelled in spirit to the Sun of our solar system on a few occasions with him. She said that there they refer to the Sun as Siomra. (pronounced see..om..raw). And she, with Uranda, was welcomed as royalty.

They met in a council-like setting and considered the progress of those earlier stirrings in this Great Awakening now more obviously under way on earth.

Uranda took a few friends with him to the Sun. Here are a few excerpts from his writings about these journeys, written in the late 1930s.

“Only the tip ends of the flames, which form the outer covering of the Sun, are moving. The deeper layers of the Sun are permanently fixed, created out of Sun-Substance which endures for all eternity; and it never grows old, it is always new ... we are at last moving through the outer boundaries of Siomra! As your eyes become more accustomed to the light, you begin to realise that you are just beginning to see things that have been there all the time. The seeming development of that which surrounds us has only been the gradual expansion of your vision.... You can no longer think of yourself as that little human being which man's world has thought you to be. The human part of you has been absorbed into the Being of your Eternal Self ─ AND YOU ARE THE ONE!

“I see the joy that surges through you as you arrive for a visit in your Ancient Home, where you lived and worked so long ago.... We bow low before our beloved Lord Raira and deeply rejoice (pronounced raw..eee.. raw). You also see all these other palaces, placed in a great circle around the Central Palace. These palaces are the headquarters, in Siomra, for all the different planets of our Solar System. There is the Palace of Poisenra [earth] over there to our right. [A host] is waiting to take you to your quarters.

“You are guided toward a large golden pillar that appears to be alive. It looks like a pearl, ingrained with gold and bands of fire which move and change while you watch.... You are surprised to see your[host] walk right into the pillar as if it were only mist, instead of having the appearance of solid pearl.... You too step into the pillar in which there is no door.... You move swiftly downward. [Your host] explains, ‘Here we are already. Step outside with me.’

“This, that appeared to you as a pillar made of stone, is but one of the transportation tubes of Siomra. This one is vertical, and we have come down several thousand feet in just a moment. Through these tubes it is possible to go, almost instantly, to any part of Siomra.... Siomra is about 900,000 earth miles in diameter, while ... Poisenra is less than 8,000 miles in diameter, so some of these tubes are hundreds of thousands of miles long.

“You let your eyes rove over the appointments of your quarters. You begin to realise that all the things around you are alive ─ yes, even the walls of your apartment are alive! Before man builds a house of wood, he kills the trees from which the wood is taken. The boards are all dead forms, and in due season they will decay and go back to dust. Nearly all the things that man uses are dead. All the things that man makes are dead. With a peculiar sense of faraway horror you realise that nearly everything that man does is either killing something or is working in some way with something that is already dead. Man, down on the earth, with all his blessings and opportunities and God-given powers, gives nearly all of his attention to dead things, or to the killing of things that are alive.

“How different are your surroundings here in Siomra … All that is being done around you is related to life ─ eternal life ─ and every action is creative.... There is nothing on the face of the earth that can begin to compare with the beauty and luxury and convenience with which you are surrounded. As in the other rooms of the palace, you cannot see where the light is coming from, but the room is filled with a soft, restful light that casts no shadows anywhere. In fact, you suddenly realise that you have not seen any shadows anywhere in Siomra ... You have noticed many interesting things since your arrival ... One … is the absence of shadows ...

“Man is able to see and distinguish form primarily through light and shadow ... dependent upon the reflection of light from the surface of that which is seen, so it is the reflection which is seen, rather than the thing itself. In Siomra ... visual perception is not through reflection of light from the surface of the thing seen but is experienced through the radiation of light from within yourself to that which is seen.... We are here on a most important mission, and the service we are to render is destined to influence the function of our whole Solar System, and especially, we are concerned with the destiny and function of our beloved Poisenra.

“The wall here, on my right is, as you see, a living thing.... When I am talking to you, you will be able to see the things I am talking about ... this wall is perfectly tuned to my mind and my thoughts may be pictured there if I wish it to be so.... On this panel I can show you a picture of present happenings anywhere in this Solar system, and with a little adjustment I could give you an opportunity to see any thing or person, or happening in the Universe, or even beyond, if it were wise and necessary.

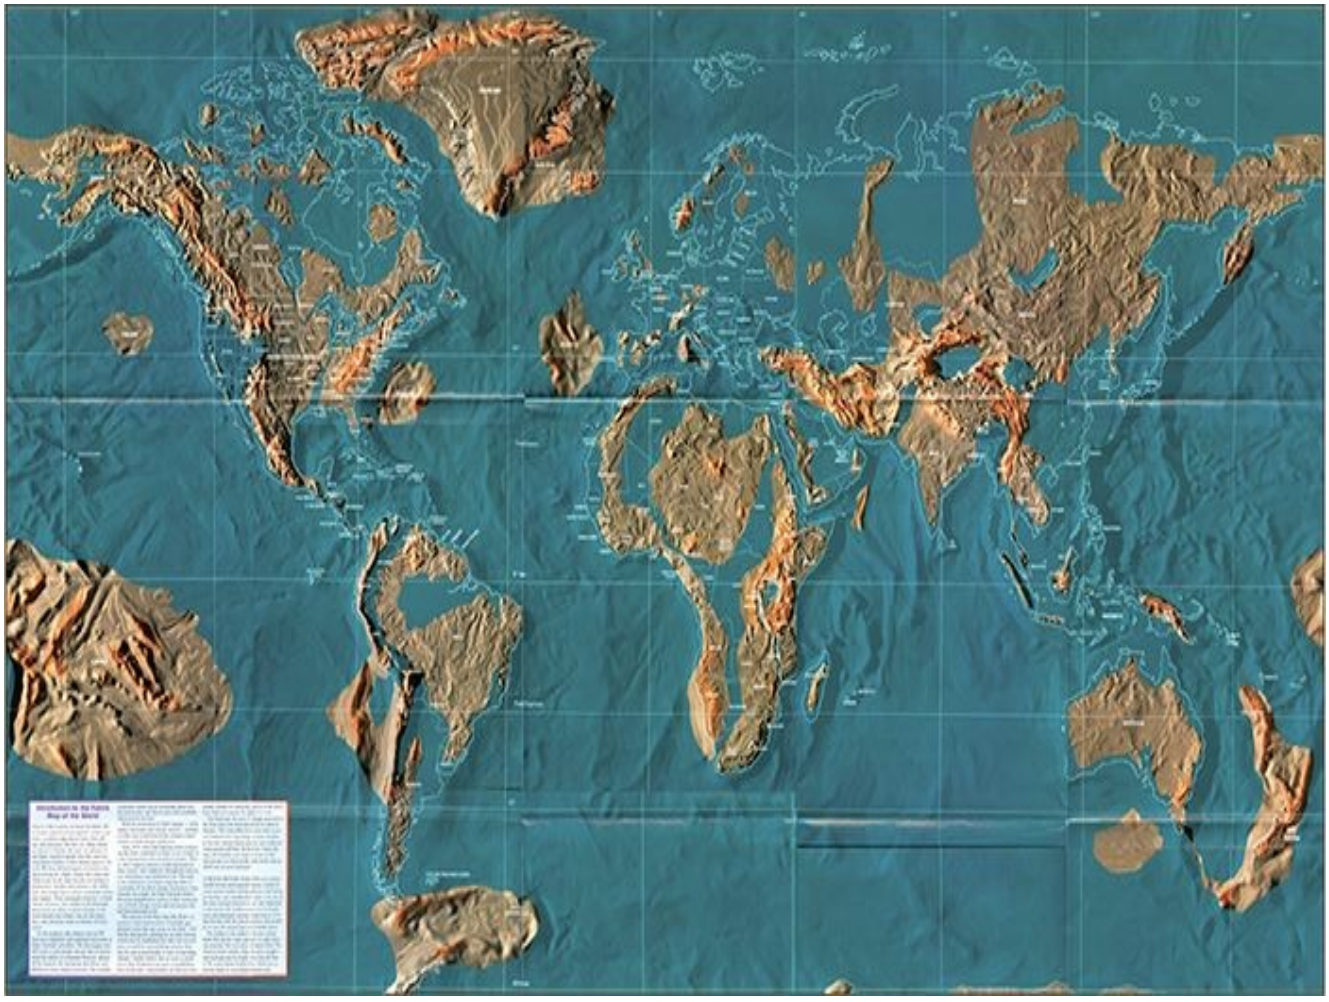
“[Your] sacred mission is to again release the Truths of Being to the fallen ones of Poisenra ... all things are prepared for ... successful accomplishment ... the hour of judgement has come upon mankind and the time is at hand.... ‘Thus far shalt thou come, and No Further!’ Man must now respond to the Cosmic Plan or bring destruction upon himself. Those who attempt to understand through intellectual approach, on the basis of knowledge gained from outer world sources, shall ... find my words are without meaning. When record of our activity here shall reach [awakening humanity] they should not attempt to ‘try’ to come here in imagination … rather they should relax into the realization of my words. “

“Since that experience, Jessie, Janice, and I haven’t viewed the Sun the same as we did. Behind the blinding solar radiance, I imagine loving friends beaming down their support for our re awakening to Spirit here on earth, helping us remember our role within the ascending energies, which flow throughout the universe and back to the Central Sun of Suns.

“The Mayan Calendar speaks of overarching cycles of time and their relationship to changing human consciousness. Lloyd Meeker awakened to this broader perspective in 1932 as he became aware of and united with his innate, indwelling spirit Uranda, who continued to fuel his passionate vision until his passing in 1954. Carl Jung considered these larger cycles seminal to human consciousness. Growing numbers of awakening humanity are becoming aware of these time frames and of their vital importance . Other dimensions of reality and recognition of our true identity are coming into view .” -The Cosmic Alarm Clock : Anonymous : Free Download, Borrow, and Streaming : Internet Archive Chapter 8 .

The image below comes from the future visions of Gordon Michael Scallion, one of many who are aware of and have insight into coming earth changes. Of note, this particular image has been copied from a site showing where Billionaires are building their doomsday bunkers and “safe estates”. They are using precisely the same G.M. Scallion forecast map to survive coming events!

You will note the re-emergence of the long submerged continent of Lemuria to the west of what remains of South America, and the western portion of what was Atlantis has re-emerged to the east of the New England states of the current United States of America.



I will conclude with this sobering presentation given by Uranda on March 27, 1953, subsequently entitled “Events Subsequent To The Fall Of Man, Ancient Worship of Mars and Venus, Submersion of Lemuria and Atlantis.”

“We have been going through the process of becoming oriented in relationship to some the obscurities of the past, the basic patterns which were involved in relationship to the fall of man... You will recall that in days gone by there was a period when Mars, the planet, was worshipped as a god. And there was another period when the planet Venus was worshipped as a god. If you go out and look up at the sky at a time when either Venus or Mars are visible in the sky, do you see anything that should be so outstandingly different from the other planets, that the ancients would particularly pick out such planets as objects of worship? The simple answer is, you do not. There is not enough difference in relationship to the appearance in the sky, not enough obvious relationship to warrant any such adoration or concern or fear as was once shown toward these planets. We have, right on the face of it, obvious evidence that these planets were not always functioning in the orbits where they now are. We have obvious evidence that they were in some other position than they are in relationship to our own planet.

“Now we will not attempt to go into that extensively. We have some text material on this point, in relationship to what has been gathered on a very scientific basis as evidence, and in a general sense the outline as it is given is very good. Some of the conclusions drawn from the scientific evidence we cannot agree with, but the scientific evidence itself stands and is worthy of a good deal of consideration. Perhaps we will have time to go into it somewhat later on, but going back for the moment to some of the things that worked out in relationship to the processes of the fall. Up to the time when the fall took place there was no disturbance in the patterns of polarity, the cycles were working normally, but it was through Man, the Focalization of Creation, that these currents were working in relationship to creation. When man was in right polarity the planet itself and the various levels of creation were held in polarity in relationship to the cosmic scheme of things. But when the fall had taken place, from the divine standpoint there were certain problems which were posed. Those who did not fall, those who maintained the right pattern, were keeping the earth in right polarity and maintaining conditions where it made it seem that those who were functioning wrongly were not reaping any ill results of their wrong action, because the right pattern was maintained for them and all around them. And consequently they took the attitude, “See, we are doing as we please and the ill results which were suggested simply have not appeared.” Therefore they felt justified and were utterly unrepentant.

“Everything within that scope of the pattern was done to give them ample opportunity to return to the Divine Design, and it was not at all necessary that all these thousands of years of suffering and misery and sorrow and death should have followed. To say that man turned away and that God could not do anything about it, that man then had to go through all this long cycle, and Jesus Christ had to come into the world, and all the rest of it, just because man originally fell, is utterly wrong. There was plenty of opportunity at that tine for those who had turned into the wrong path to repent. But the violent results did not immediately appear, not in the sense that would carry conviction. One of the points that we notice with respect to the outworking, as it is given in the blueprint which we call the Book of Revelation, is that there should come a point when there would be a basic recognition that “just and righteous altogether are Thy judgments, O Lord.” And as long as there was a pattern where it would appear that God's judgments were not just and righteous, the thing had to be proven out. In other words, merely because God could foresee such-and-such a result, merely because from the divine standpoint there was a definite recognition of what would take place, and that it would be justified to take such-and-such an action, those who were not functioning in relationship to that level of consciousness and who simply could not see that there was any justification in taking the attitude toward them that was taken, they felt self-righteous and took the attitude that God was not being fair, that His judgments were not right.

“I have had that same attitude displayed toward me many a time. Then what was to be done? The thing had to prove itself out. It was not God's purpose or intention that death should appear on the earth, and all the miseries that produce death. There are those who believe that God created man and intended that man should fall; He did not intend that man should remain in some kind of a perfect state — that God was not fair to man; man at that time was just like a little child; he did not know right from evil and he made this mistake and then he did this, he did that, and so on. And God either condemned everybody just because one who was comparable to a child made a mistake, which would be unjust, or else God intended that man should fall.

“So man's rationalizations, attempting to work out an idea that would not make it appear that God was too unjust, have brought about a conclusion that God simply intended man to fall and that death is a part of the Divine Plan, a part of the school, or a part of an opportunity to grow or something. So the concept that death is absolutely essential to life is widely held and the inevitability of death, etc., is greatly emphasized. As the pattern now stands certain substances of the body or certain parts of the body, or some body is going to die, as we say — but death is not at all what it seems to be to human beings, and that which is in the divine scope of things is not death.

“We have recognized that the Divine Design was birth and ascension, not birth and death. Once we begin to actually realize that, we can see that God did not intend that man should fall. All of this misery and suffering and sorrow has not been a part of the Divine Plan. It has all been contrary to God’s will, contrary to God’s plan, and when I say contrary to God's will, again we come up against one of the popular religious concepts, because there are millions of people who believe that everything that happens is God's will. God is all powerful, therefore nothing can happen without God's will, and if something happens to you, it is God's will. If there is a tragedy, a death, a suffering, a sickness, an illness, or anything else, it is God's will. And they take the attitude that it would be somehow blasphemous to suggest that anything on the face of the earth happened without it being God's will. Carried out to its logical conclusion, you have to admit that everybody that lies, everybody that murders, everybody that steals, everybody that does anything evil, is doing God's will. You cannot be logical in that kind of a pattern without carrying it right on and recognizing that it includes everything.

“Very well, if everyone who does something wrong is doing God's will, then God is not properly going to punish the person that does His will, is He? He should reward. It gets back to the same point I made with respect to Judas, because if it were God's will that Jesus Christ should die on the cross in order to save people from their sins, then we must admit that Judas of all men, outside of the Master Himself, rendered the greatest service to each and every one. We cannot agree to that. No, it was not God's will. Judas was not predestined to do that. He was not acting on Divine Impulse. So we begin to realize, wherever we turn, there is evidence of the fact that it was not God's intention that all of this misery and suffering and sorrow should come into the world. We have had over twenty thousand years of a pattern on earth that was not necessary, that God did not intend, and that is not in any sense a fulfilment of His plan; and until we get out of it, we are not in position to continue on in the outworking of His plan. So the immediate goal is to get man out of the situation. That is merely an incidental plan to the situation. Man has come to act as if he believed that God's whole purpose and plan was to save man, and after that was done, there is nothing else. But God's plan did not include the fall of man. That was not the purpose or intent, and until we get back into that pattern that God did design, we will not be functioning according to our true purpose.

“So this work of bringing about the restoration is simply an interim plan and purpose in order to reinstate man in a position where he can function according to the Divine Plan. Once we begin to see that, we can begin to take the right attitude toward the basic facts of life as they relate to man's present situation. Well then, we see, going back again to that original point, that those who had fallen were not producing the condition which their acts would naturally produce. Why? Because there were other people in the world who were not functioning in that manner, who were maintaining the polarity as far as the earth itself was concerned, who were maintaining a condition that let evil people — people that were rebellious and following their own fancies — have all the blessings, practically speaking, in an outer sense, of right function. Well, after a reasonable period of time given to those people to repent and return, God had to make a change.

“Now God is not a destroyer. He is a creator. So it would have looked unjust — the surface appearance, the evidence, would not have been present to have simply annihilated those people, to have said, “Well now here, we will just annihilate you and the rest of the folks will be all right, so we will go right on.” But that is not God’s way. And the evidence was not manifest. The judgment would have been in the appearance of an assumption, because the outworking of the cycle was not manifest. God could foresee what the outworking would be, but to judge on that basis without the cycle actually having worked out would have made it appear that God was perhaps unjust. So the only thing to do, after a reasonable period of time, was to have all of those who were functioning correctly — except a few, very few, who were to remain as leaders and teachers to give an opportunity to man — to have everybody else ascend — a mass ascension of millions of people away from the earth's surface, leaving only a few to be leaders and teachers to whatever degree those who remained would listen, after they began to see the actual evidence of their wrong doing, the results in manifestation. There had been, to make it a little more exact, group ascensions quite a while before the final one, which allowed some evidence to appear, but it was not enough to convince the self-active minds of men. They took the attitude, "Well, you folks go on. We do not care. We do not need you. Look, we are getting along all right. This threat that you are all going to ascend and leave us, what difference does that make to us? Go on. We would like to have the earth all to ourselves." They took that basic attitude.

"So the day came when there was a mass ascension of those who remained, and the earth was left to them with the few exceptions I have mentioned. And so, what happened? Those who remained were out of polarity. The cosmic currents working in relationship to the earth had been moving through Man, Divine Man, in polarity. That body of control was removed and the control factors were consequently gone. So the cosmic currents which function in relationship to the earth, the solar system, and so on, had to be without any means of manifestation, or work through man who was out of polarity. Immediately then, the earth itself was thrown out of polarity. The polarity of the earth depends upon the polarity of man as a human family. Not just one or two human beings, no, but the whole human family.

"The polarity of the earth itself depends upon the polarity of Man — meaning mankind. So immediately the earth itself was thrown out of polarity. It was wrenched suddenly off of its axis, the subterranean supports under the earth crumbled, fountains of waters gushed out, flames of fire appeared in violent volcanic eruptions, and over a period of about seven thousand years after this real process of submersion began the Motherland or Lemuria was in the process of submersion — terrific earthquakes and all kinds of things. The earth was reeling to and fro on its axis much more than it is today, and it was thrown out of its orbit in relationship to the Sun.

“Now, when we have a solar system, a sun with various planets around it, and one planet is suddenly thrown out of its orbit and out of its polarity, are all the other planets going to be unmoved by it? No, because they have an inter-relationship. Their particularized positions depend not just upon the individual planet’s relationship to the Sun. Our particularized position in the planetary system depends not just on the Sun and our planet as such, but upon the influences, gravitational and otherwise, of the other planets of the solar system. Do you see that? It could not be any other way, because no group of bodies in what would be called space, functioning in relationship to each other, can have no influence upon each other. They do have an influence, according to their mass and density and make-up, etc. There are variations of gravitational influence, just to name one thing, and there are many other vibrational factors involved. So when the earth was thrown out of its polarity and out of its orbit, it likewise threw other planets out of their orbits, and the pattern worked out so that the … well, there was a gravitational mess, shall we say. There were certain of the planets which, due to these factors … and they worked out in relationship to some comets. I am going to have to bring in the pattern of comets here, to make this clear.

“The comets of which we are aware, the comets which come within the range of our vision so that we can see them and know about them and chart them and so on, are a part of our solar system. I do not know whether you knew that or not, but you can study into it if you wish, from the standpoint of astronomy. They have the Sun as their point of orientation — our Sun. And these comets which are a part of our solar system are likewise a part of the basic material factors of our relationship with the rest of the universe. A rather limited but suggestive illustration would be the fact that there are red blood corpuscles. Suppose you figure the heart as the center of the physical organism and we have various organs at certain distances from the heart, and certain members of the body, like hands and feet, which revolve in a sense around the heart, or function in relationship to it; but there is likewise something that goes to the heart and out to the extremities and back again, the circulation of blood, or the red blood corpuscles, etc.

“Now, of course the application of the principle is different in relationship to you as a human being, but just exactly as that is true in you as a human being, the relationship of this planetary system with the rest of the universe had to be established on a basis that was not just purely spiritual, shall we say. There had to be physical factors. And the comets, of which there are many, are a part of this pattern. Now when things were thrown out of polarity and the comets were functioning as they did — they had a part in maintaining particularized balance and rhythm in the movement of the planets themselves — there were certain planets which were thrown into a comet pattern. I might mention that there is one of the planets which belongs in the solar system as a planet which is still to this day functioning as a comet. Now, we talk about physical changes in the solar system, physical changes in relationship to the earth. These things do not come about all just because of what we might call spiritual means — the idea of changing the pattern in relationship to the earth. How is it that the earth itself is going to be caused to move in the future yet on a basis which makes it seem that the heavens are rolled together as a scroll?

“Suppose you are standing here on the earth's surface and looking up at the sky and suddenly, because of variations in gravitational pattern, the earth is thrown suddenly on its axis and rolled over the other way. You are used to it rolling one way. How about having it roll the other way on its axis, or north to south, we will say? If you are looking up at the sky under that circumstance, aside from a lot of other things that will be happening, it would appear that the sky was rolling together as a scroll. And if the earth is thrown into a serious wobble on its axis, as has been the case in the past and as will be the case in the future, we have some very interesting results.

Now the earth will ultimately, in the outworking of the Divine Pattern, one way or another be restored to its normal balance in the axis pattern. This excessive wobble that we have today will be eliminated, and we will be restored to our proper distance from the Sun. We are not out very much from that distance or human beings could not live. You see, if the variations were too much the conditions necessary for the life of man would be gone. So this is one of the factors which makes it impossible for man, under the present time, to live more than a hundred years or so, generally speaking. Because the earth itself is out of key, the vibrational factors of the solar system have to be changed — and just you and I, or a few human beings, this group for instance, even if we begin to function on a reasonably good basis, just that alone is not going to produce the conditions necessary to the perfect fulfilment of the plan. We have to carry on under these conditions until we become powerful enough in relationship to centering, in relationship to control patterns, to allow the vibratory factors to move through us as a means of establishing right polarity for the earth. But it will be more than that, just as it was more than that at the time of the fall. For at the time this works out, our sister planet which is at the present time functioning as a comet — and because of that we have been able to maintain conditions in the solar system which would let man live even as long as he does now — is going to be restored to her position as a planet, and the vibratory balance will have to be worked out again.

“When that planet which is now acting as a comet comes back into the solar system, we need to be ready for it. We will not try to restore the earth to its right polarity until the right vibrational conditions have been reached in the sense of the creative processes. Even if we were ready today, and it would take at least one hundred and forty-four thousand people who were perfectly centered and coordinated as a control pattern to even begin to think about it, but suppose we were ready today, which we are not, we would still have to wait until the cycles of time worked out, the right vibratory patterns were developed, and the time had come in these patterns of movement for our sister planet to return to the solar system. But when that time comes, we had better be ready. Now we do not have too much time. In other words, you cannot say, “Well, if that is the case, it does not make any difference what we do.” It does! And we had better be getting ready or we will have trouble. But that means that a whole new vibrational pattern will be re-established in the solar system and so in the earth, a vibrational pattern which would make it possible for man to actually do what he was created to do, equipped to do.

“We cannot expect now, under this vibrational pattern, to live for say five thousand years. That was what man was created to do — any length of time necessary, as I have pointed out before. But until we reestablish the right conditions, we are not going to do that. So we had better do our part toward re-establishing the right conditions. That is part of our job now. And from the standpoint of what the Master did, we talk about the salvation of man. What is the salvation of man? It is the outworking of this whole Plan, so that the solar system and our planet can be restored to the Divine Estate, and until they are man is certainly not going to have the opportunity to live according to the full pattern of that Divine Estate. We can reach a certain degree of development and accomplishment under conditions as they are, far more than has been. There is no block ahead of you; do not worry about it. But that is as much a part of the salvation of man as anything that anyone can do. That is what was part of the program when our Master came into the world. The idea that it was all worked out when He died on the cross, as people put it, is so utterly infantile when one begins to see the truth of the matter. We see that the salvation of man requires the restoration of the earth itself to its proper point and pattern of function in the cosmic scheme of things. So just as the earth was thrown out of polarity, so will the earth be brought back into polarity, and the comets will have a part to play, other planets will have a part to play.

“And there was a period during Old Testament history even when certain of the planets, Mars and Venus in the different cycles, were actually so close to the earth that they had the appearance of being much larger than our moon — and there was fire, the gravitational pulls involved between the two, electrical discharges manifesting between the two, and it is no wonder that the people then looked up in the sky and saw this great fiery monster as it appeared to them, and worshipped it. It was not in its present place in the solar system. Now if you have never heard anything like that before, it may sound a little fantastic to begin with, but we can look into it, we can examine it, because what I am talking about is a scientific fact — and there is a physical factor in relationship to all of these things.

“For instance, you go back and consider some of the things that are spoken of in the Old Testament, and people will say, “Well, that is just a physical impossibility, the earth standing still, or this happening or that happening." What was it that produced the peculiar conditions during the time when the Children of Israel were wandering in the wilderness? What was the manna from heaven? All right. The manna from heaven was something that was peculiar to that particular time and period when there had been a near collision between our earth and another planet, and there was a period of about forty years when they did not see the sun — the pillar of cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night. Is this just something fantastic that someone dreamed up, or is it something supernatural? No, there are sound, scientific, physical facts in relationship to every one of these incidents, and they are not just something imaginary or something achieved by some peculiar mystic means. When we begin to realize that there is a basic, scientific, physical fact back of every one of these outworkings, we will begin to see that we are not trying to do something that cannot be done; because whatever we do here, we are working on the basis of those scientific facts — not to try to achieve the impossible — out to set up vibratory conditions which will make it possible for us to utilize certain physical facts which are yet in the future. And if we are not ready when they come, it will be just too bad. So we intend to be ready. And all of these things are basic, and once you begin to see them — I think maybe I will have to take a little time, from the nature of the vibratory pattern here this morning,

"I think maybe I am going to have to take a little time to really study some of these things with you, just enough at least to let you see what I am talking about. But all of these things were working out during the period of the time of the Children of Israel; that is, certain of these things were, and some of them back beyond that. But now I want to bring into focus one other point for you, to see what happened, because as I indicated the other day with respect to the graph of life, man went through a process of devolution or descending before he began to come back up to the level where he now is. He did not come out of oblivion, developing out of an amoeba or something. Man as a Divine Being was. Man fell. The graph of life went down very rapidly after the submersion of Atlantis, the continent that was on the earth's surface where the Atlantic Ocean now is. I might mention that the story of driving man out of the Garden of Eden, as it is touched on so briefly in the Bible, is the story of the submersion of Lemuria. And about a thousand years later there was the submersion of Atlantis, and that story is the same as the story of the flood in the Bible — the same story as the submersion of Atlantis. Driving man, as it is pictured here, out of the Garden of Eden — the submersion of Lemuria or the Motherland. And about a thousand years later, Atlantis went down. We have recognized that at that time, or during those periods, there were vast portions of this continent under water. Plenty of geological evidence of it.

“You can find something that belonged at the bottom of the sea on top of our highest mountains. How did it happen? Well, I can tell you how it happened. Because until you begin to see how this old earth has been pushed and pulled and jammed and shoved around, you cannot understand it. And it did not take millions of years as some have thought, because those who developed those fantastic concepts — that is what they are actually — did not have any idea of what the physical factors back of all of this were, and so we will take a little look at it.

“When the submersion of Atlantis took place — during that thousand years there was quite a development. Atlantis became the centering of world government after it was lost from Lemuria, and civilization began to pick up again — a thousand years. How long have we been on this continent? When was it that Columbus sailed the ocean blue? 1492. About five hundred years, would you say? And all of this, all of our great cities, all of the things we have done, our railroads, everything — in five hundred years we have accomplished all of this. Now, of course they were in much better position to accomplish things in the days of Atlantis, and they had a thousand years. Stop and look at it that way and you will begin to see something. Because in five hundred years, look what we have done in this day and age. Handicapped as we were, using ox-carts and all the rest of it, and look what we have done in this period of time. They had a thousand years in Atlantis. So when I say there was a considerable period of development, you should begin to understand that there was something really far superior to anything that we have today, even under that regime. But it was not what it should have been; and various factors worked out, and Atlantis went down.

“Then there were so many changes in the earth's surface at that time, so many changes in climate, in atmospheric conditions. There were just a few people comparatively speaking, scattered, isolated. The sudden changes produced what we have called the Ice Age, because that water froze suddenly. We have plenty of scientific proof of that, have we not? — that that water became frozen very suddenly. How did it happen? Because of the fact that the earth was reeling to and-fro like a drunken man, the wobble was terrific, the climatic conditions changed, and what was a comparatively lovely climate became extremely severe, much more severe than we have at the present time, in fact. And these people were isolated.

“Suppose you — it is not a very nice thing to imagine — but suppose there were enough atomic bombs fell right here on the earth, on our country, to absolutely wipe out our cities, wreck our communication systems, and have just two or three people here, maybe three or four over there, hiding in the mountains, living in caves, no resources as we think of them today, no cars, no airplanes, nothing; just civilization wiped out and a few scattered, actually maybe over the whole earth, maybe a few thousand people. Of course, it is pictured here in the story of the flood, just as Noah and his family. Well, allegorically that is true, but there were several thousand people in different parts of the earth who were saved. Noah is the story given allegorically with respect to one family, but there were other families who were saved. The point is that these people did not know whether anyone else lived on the face of the earth or not. They had no means of communication. The second and third generation — and generations would become very short there, would they not? — you would have to be using clubs to kill some animals to get some food. The earth itself was covered with a density of clouds and dust and so on until you could not see the Sun. You could not tell what the directions were. For a long time they did not know what was north or south, they could not see the stars, they could not see the Sun or the moon, and it was cold, bitter cold. They were living in caves, trying to find some wild animals, get their skins to clothe themselves and so on. Oh, there was a cave-man age sure enough, but it came on so suddenly. And how rapidly under those conditions, when every resource had to be given to the preservation of physical life, how rapidly would the consciousness of things gone by disappear.

“A grandparent talking to his grandson, trying to tell him something of what was before, he would have nothing to go by; the child could not see it, it would sound like, “Grandpa is a little nutty, you know. He is a little cracked. He talks about such things as that. Why, we all know that such a thing could not be.” Grandpa saw it and grandson did not, and how quickly it is all turned legend and myth. Do you see what I mean? And in a few years, fifty years even, suppose our civilization was wiped out and there were only three or four hundred people left, scattered all over, they did not know that anyone else was left; perhaps they were the only survivors, each one thinking that, how long would it take? And, if going through the woods, Grandpa and grandson stumbled on something peculiar, grandson does not know what it is. “What is that Grandfather?” “That is what we used to call a railroad track. Here is a little part that did not get covered up, some old rusty rails shining through the weeds and the undergrowth. I will try to tell you what a railroad was like. Now let us see, how can I tell you what a railroad was like?” — a railroad engine, no way of telling; a railroad train, no way of telling. “Pieces of metal there,” and Grandpa gets dreamy and he tries to tell grandson about it, and grandson shakes his head. “Grandpa is sure just about gone.” Can you see the picture? Well, that is what happened then after the submersion of Atlantis, and the earth was plunged into that particular state and man forgot all about everything except trying to survive in a few very widely scattered points, and he was living in caves. How quickly does he revert to primarily an animal pattern under those circumstances. He has no means but his own wit and strength and a club to kill wild animals to get something to eat, and skins to clothe himself. And so when I say in five hundred years — remember we accomplished all this building up in five hundred years — does it sound so fantastic then when I say five hundred years from the time of the submersion of Atlantis there were just a few scattered tribes, a few cave-men here, a few nomads there, and civilization as it had been known was gone; those tribes were in most cases enemies to each other; they did not trust each other, and so on. And there you see the picture of the low point to which man went down.

“And gradually he began to come up out of that, and finally in the early dawn of history we see Egypt appearing on the horizon. We begin to see the Near East. We begin to see something of that development working out in the Oriental pattern, and going back we can see something with respect to what was the fact down here in Central America, what we call Mexico now, and on down into South America, the Aztecs, etc. — and all that you can do is go back five or six thousand B. C. in history. So man was emerging for several thousand years to get up to the point where he reached a state of civilization that allowed him to begin to make a record of his doings. Is that not what we call civilization? — man reaching a point where he starts making a record of what he does, so you have history. He begins to have an organized society. And that was the dawn of history as we know it.

“But I have given you just a tiny glimpse of the history that went before it so that you can begin to see something of the influences, and we have not been on a long journey up from the state of an amoeba. We have the background of Divine Man, the fall of man, this plunge into the cave-man stage and the Ice Age, and so on. Why did the great layers of ice come plowing down across the earth’s surface as they did? If I take you up I can show you territory right out here on our plains where you can see the edge of where a great glacier came plowing along, pushing earth in front of it, and then it got that far and melted. The edge of it is right out here. I have flown over it many, many times. Oh yes, glacial action and all the rest of it, things that geology has not been able to comprehend except to know that there had to be an Ice Age — and because they did not know about this sudden shifting on the earth's axis and all of these other things, they imagine it had to creep down there and take millions of years. “Glaciers travel so fast, do they not? Why it would take so many million years for that glacier to reach from the North Pole to right out there.” Presto-change-o, you have the millions of years of evolution. But that is not the case at all. You begin to see how and why these things happened. And you begin to understand the sound, scientific facts back of them. And remember that only as we are scientific and fundamental in relationship to these things, can we cause spiritual understanding to have any real value in living.”

Reading Uranda’s remarkable presentation you may have noticed that he spoke of the importance of gathering 144,000 people who would be consciously aware of this understanding, living in radiant, unified alignment with Innate Divine Design. This could have provided a vibrational control pattern through which the body of Satan could have been successfully addressed. He also stated that failing this ”easy way”, humanity would rise up in a time of great tribulation and put an end to Satan’s time of hideous rule.

Intensifying events globally make very clear Satanic desecration of Sacred Life must not and cannot continue much further, or yet greater disaster will be imposed by psychopathic bullies who repeatedly, continually have proven themselves to be fundamentally cowards, afraid to admit their catastrophic folly of denying Innate Intelligent Divine Design. As has been true for over 20,000 years, you who lead this rebellion against Life Itself are, even now, invited to repent, and return to serving Our Father.

As expressed on the rear cover of “The Cosmic Alarm Clock”, “Life on earth is our dream together. Together we choose the coming dream of the Golden Age or the nightmare of Prison Planet Earth. Discover who we really are and your role as we make history together. The entire universe is Cheering Us on!”

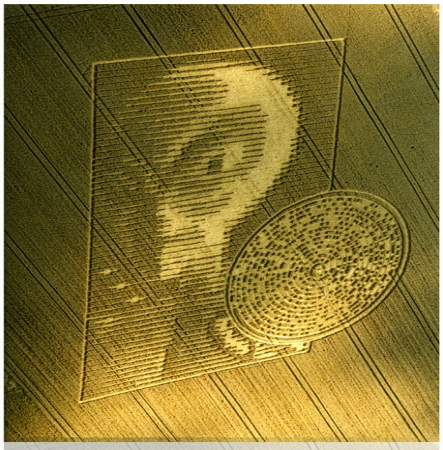
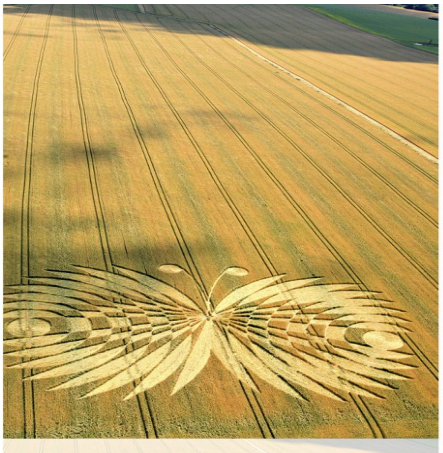
Namaste (The Divine in me honors and respects the Divine in You.)



This striking image of an Alien presenting an encoded disc appeared the night of August 15, 2002 near Salisbury England. The site on Vale Farm is approximately 8 miles from the Chilbolton Radio Telescope, long used to attempt communication with other intelligent forms of life throughout the universe. The message conveyed via binary code developed by NASA to communicate with Extra Terrestrial life reads: "Beware the bearers of false gifts and their broken promises. Much pain but still time. There is good out there. We oppose deception."



On July 17, 2007, beginning at 11:11 AM Greenwich Mean Time, people the world over united in meditation to "Fire the Grid", to extend loving support to the vital energetic pathways of Gaia, our beloved Earth Mother.
In appreciation, this stylized butterfly appeared in a field of wheat the night prior in Oxfordshire, England. A butterfly, representing humanity's awakenening from isolated, cocooned slumber, into awakened, winged beauty. How appropriate!